LATEST HOP REPORT.
Brought to Salem through Eastern News-papers.
Waterbury, N. Y. Times, Dec. 5.
We have heard of no special business in hops except the sale by J. J. Bennett & Sons of their 280 bale growth. The price reported is 12c, though this cannot be definitely verified. Other sales are: R. Wilson Roberts, 66 bales at 9c; Barnes Bros., 25 at 8c; E. Abbey, 16 at 9c; Ed. Butler, 39 at 10c.
As will be seen by the table of exports there have been about 2,500 bales less shipped during the week ending Dec. 5th than for the corresponding week last year. The total export to Dec. 5th is 30,472 bales less than last year up to that time.

New York Journal & Bulletin, Dec. 8.
Business is only fair for the season since export outlet is small and brewer's and dealer's near future wants seemingly well covered. Prices remain fairly firm for choice grade of 1899 crop, States and Pacific; but rarely steady for other grades of the new crop, yearlings or olds. Reports from the Pacific Coast noted sales to the extent of 600 bales or more at 7 to 9c for good, useful quality of 1899 crop and stated also that 80 percent of the California yield has passed out of growers' hands, some molly stock going as low as 4c. Poorly picked and molly New York State hops were sold at relatively low prices in some of the interior markets. This recent business would seem to confirm the accuracy of what has been noted recently in this column, superiority of poorly picked and otherwise inferior stock.

Cooperstown Republican, Dec. 7.
There has been considerable buying the past week, and the purchases aggregate 1,400 bales, as reported to us, at prices from 7 to 13 cents.
New York Price, Dec. 2.
From the Pacific slope advices report a continued satisfactory movement with stocks gradually but surely reducing; not so much business reported at the higher figures of late, as the best grades have been pretty closely selected out. English advices report the crop as showing a much larger proportion of inferior grades than was originally supposed, and anxiety shown to move such grades with stocks offered at lower prices—down to 2c and 3c per cwt. for common and medium sorts. Fine grades are scarce, but also easier to buy. German advices report a firm holding and prices a trifle higher.

Notes.
Yakima, Wash. Republic—The buyers assert that in spite of the organization of growers here and in Oregon, and their reported determination to hold for better prices, fully 8,000 bales of the Yakima county crop have changed hands. The Republic has no information that goes to show that this claim is not correct though some of the farmers who say they have kept tabs on the sales deny it, and maintain that the sales have not taken out one-half of the country's '99 product.
Cooperstown Farmer: Six out of the nine dealers in town have purchased this week 800 bales including 77 bales of '98's. The prices run all the way from 7 to 13c and there is a persistent rumor of a half cent better having been paid in one instance. About 25 bales were taken at the lowest figure, about 5 to 8c and about the same at 9c.

Cobleskill Times: J. H. Tator has bought about 300 bales this week at the same prices before quoted, 12 to 13c, and has taken in about 500 bales. He has 2,000 bales purchased which are yet to be taken in and has already shipped as many more into the English market.

Republic—The buyers assert that in spite of the organization of growers here and in Oregon, and their reported determination to hold for better prices, fully 8,000 bales of the Yakima county crop have changed hands. The Republic has no information that goes to show that this claim is not correct though some of the farmers who say they have kept tabs on the sales deny it, and maintain that the sales have not taken out one-half of the country's '99 product.
Cooperstown Farmer: Six out of the nine dealers in town have purchased this week 800 bales including 77 bales of '98's. The prices run all the way from 7 to 13c and there is a persistent rumor of a half cent better having been paid in one instance. About 25 bales were taken at the lowest figure, about 5 to 8c and about the same at 9c.

Cobleskill Times: J. H. Tator has bought about 300 bales this week at the same prices before quoted, 12 to 13c, and has taken in about 500 bales. He has 2,000 bales purchased which are yet to be taken in and has already shipped as many more into the English market.
